Guidelines and Not Rules

These UCW Guidelines are not compulsory rules. They are based on the current organization of the United Church Women at the four levels of the church, recognizing that organizational differences exist across the church. As a continually developing organization responding to the needs of its membership, the UCW is encouraged to use these Guidelines to best meet their needs so as to be able to fulfill the organization's purpose as effectively and as faithfully as possible.

VISION AND MISSION STATEMENT

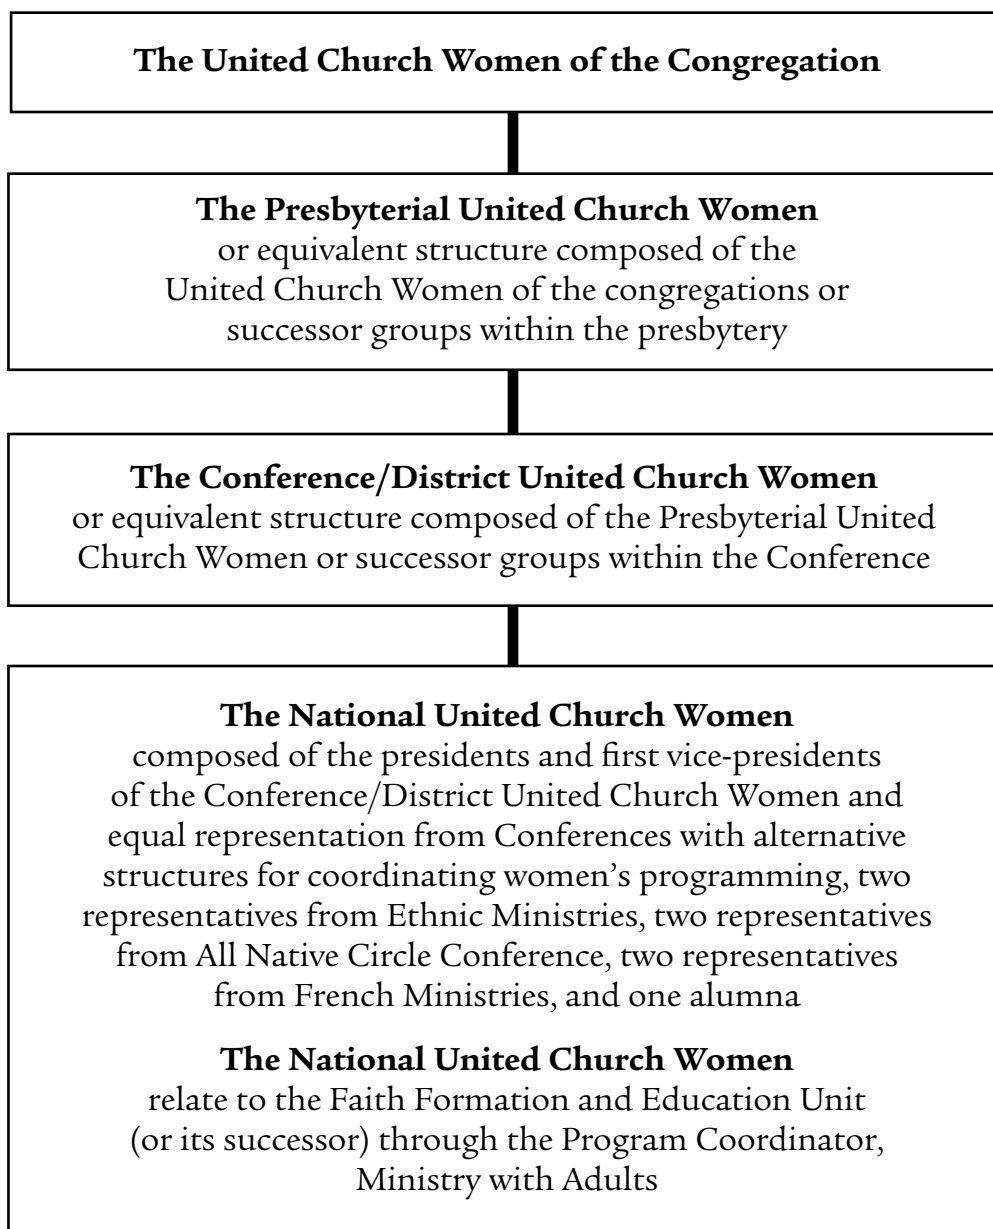

Vision

As United Church Women we believe: that as Christian women of faith, we nurture spirituality by reaching out with commitment and devotion to all God's people; in promoting truth, justice, peace, caring, and sharing with respect for all in the community and wider world; in loving God and others by living generously and giving joyfully; and in affirming and strengthening ourselves creatively in study and witness through music, laughter, and solitude.

Mission Statement

Our mission is to love God; to foster Christian faithfulness, spirituality, commitment, and devotion, and to promote love and respect by living generously and giving joyfully to all God's people; and to affirm and strengthen ourselves creatively.

CHART OF ORGANIZATION OF UNITED CHURCH WOMEN

RELATIONSHIPS WITHIN CONGREGATIONS OR PASTORAL CHARGES

1. The United Church Women is one of the organizations of the congregation or pastoral charge and, as such, is responsible to the session or other appropriate governing body. It reports to the annual meeting of the congregation or pastoral charge. In a multi-point pastoral charge, the United Church Women may be organized in each congregation, or may be organized for the pastoral charge.
2. The Women's Ministries Network has the right to a representative on the Official Board/Church Board/Church Council and its committees. Where there is more than one organization of women, the appointment shall be made jointly by those organizations (The Manual, 2004, sections 294 and 295b).
3. The United Church Women of the congregation or pastoral charge is (where applicable) represented on:
 - a) The Official Board—one member.
 - b) The Christian Education Committee—at least two members.
 - c) The Stewardship Committee—two members.
 - d) The Manse Committee—a number determined by the Official Board.
 - e) The Committee of Stewards/Property/Finance—one member. In the case of this committee, the United Church Women submits nomination(s) for a representative to be elected by the congregation.
4. In a pastoral charge with several congregations where the UCW is organized separately in each congregation, each of the United Church Women groups may have a representative on the Official Board.
5. It is advisable that the president represent the United Church Women on the Official Board. When this is not possible, another representative should be appointed by the United Church Women.

Membership

Membership is open to any woman who is in agreement with the UCW's Purpose and who is willing to contribute her prayers, gifts, and services for the work of the church in the world.

Annual membership fees and cards are optional, to be decided by each group or its Executive. Cards are available from the UCW representative at the General Council Office.

A Life Membership is available to any UCW woman the group may wish to honour. (See Appendices 6 and 7 on pages 44–45.)

All records, treasurer's books, receipts, receipt books, and cancelled cheques must be kept by the treasurer and handed to the newly elected treasurer as soon as possible after the annual meeting. No records are the treasurer's personal property. All belong to the organization and should be available at all times to the president.

The law requires that bills, receipts, and cancelled cheques be kept for seven years.

General Guidelines

Bank Accounts

The regular account of the income and disbursements should be an account in the name of _____ United Church Women. Money should never be deposited in a personal account. All cheques should require two signatures.

Persons with power to sign cheques may be any two of the following: the treasurer, the president, one other named officer.

Statements

The treasurer gives financial statements at every meeting of the United Church Women or as requested. The statements show:

1. the balance on hand at the time of the previous statement
2. all money received and all money paid out during the period covered by the statement
3. the balance on hand at time of reading

The treasurer's statement should be as simple and concise as possible.

The statements should be read clearly without comment and a copy given to the secretary to be included in the minutes.

The signed auditor's or reviewer's statement is read by the treasurer at the annual meeting following the closing of the books.

Committees

Structure varies with needs, interests, and concerns of local groups. Records and resources for each committee should be passed on to the incoming officers. (For examples of resources, see Appendix 17 on page 64.)

Christian Development/Christian Education

1. To provide support of children and youth.
2. To provide study programs for adults.
3. To provide leadership development for members.
4. To promote literature and communication.

Leadership Development

1. To provide opportunities for leadership development within all areas of UCW.
2. To encourage members of the United Church Women to attend leadership development events conducted by the Presbyterial or Conference United Church Women.

Stewardship and Mission Education

1. To promote among the membership a sense of stewardship of time, mind, talent, energy, environment, money, and possessions.
2. To foster education about the mission of the church and the support of the M&S Fund.
3. To encourage regular and systematic giving through monthly and thank offering envelopes.

Outreach: World Affairs/Church in Society/Community

Finance

The finance committee may be composed of a chairperson, the treasurer, the chairperson for stewardship, and one of the representatives of the WMN (where applicable).

1. To encourage the preparation of a budget and present it to the annual meeting of the United Church Women.
2. To consider and recommend action on any expenditures not provided for in the budget.
3. To recommend an independent auditor or reviewer to the Executive and arrange for an annual audit or review.

4. To ensure that the securing and expenditure of money is in harmony with the Purpose of the United Church Women.
5. To ensure that careful thought is given to each expenditure item.

A budget greatly assists treasurers to function more efficiently, since items approved on the budget may be dispersed without further motions as funds are available.

Guidelines for Preparing a Budget

1. Have a copy of the previous year's budget and a detailed actual financial statement of expenditures for information.
2. Agree on the amount of the UCW contribution to the M&S Fund and notify the treasurer or M&S representative for recording on the National Commitment form.
3. Assess the expenses of the UCW organization and include the allocation for expenses for the UCW Presbyterial.

It is important to remember that the funds you are administering have been raised and given to the church, whose purpose is to promote the Christian message. Remember that a budget is a guide. It may be altered during the year on motions from the finance committee at a general meeting.

Membership

Women responsible for membership should be keenly aware of the Purpose of the United Church Women and enthusiastic about enlisting members.

Opportunities should be planned to help new members become acquainted and to help all women of the congregation get to know one another.

Nominations

(Chaired by the past president, if possible.)

1. To invite, receive, and present names to fill vacancies at the annual meeting (see Appendix 9 on page 48).

Some Groups Ask Individuals or Committees to Be Responsible for:

1. Press and publicity: to publicize events of the United Church Women within the congregation and the press.
2. Flowers: to work within the policy of the congregation in providing flowers for the sick, shut-in, and bereaved.

3. Social functions: to assist at social functions and catering, as decided by the United Church Women.
4. Pastoral care: to take care that members who cannot attend meetings regularly are kept informed about the work of the United Church Women so that they may feel part of the organization; opportunities must be given to them to contribute their prayers, gifts, and service as they are able.

Meetings

The General Meeting/Gathering

The meetings should be well planned in all details to meet the interests, needs, and abilities of the members.

The meetings should be held at times that will give opportunities to all women to attend some of the meetings.

A sample meeting might be as follows:

- worship period
- program feature (good programs help to maintain the interest of the present membership and also to attract new members)
- necessary business
- social time

Unit Meetings

When the membership of the United Church Women of a congregation is greater than 25, it is advisable to form units and to hold unit meetings in addition to the general meetings.

In a small group, members can know one another better.

In organizing units of the United Church Women, it should always be remembered that the units are part of the whole organization.

Each unit will have a leader or co-leader. Unit leaders are members of the Executive of the United Church Women.

Each unit will have to decide what other officers are necessary. At least a recording secretary, a treasurer, and a convenor for the program will be needed. These officers of the unit are chosen by the unit members.

Conducting the Business Period

A quorum of the Executive shall be one-third of the members of the Executive.

Business Procedures

The president of the United Church Women conducts the business period. In her absence or at her request, a vice-president may assume this duty.

The president does not vote except in the case of a tie.

The president calls the meeting to order.

Unless previously circulated, the minutes are read by the recording secretary or alternative, and approved.

Business arising from the minutes is dealt with.

The treasurer's statement is read by the treasurer or alternative.

Correspondence is read by the corresponding secretary or alternative.

Motions

A motion is the usual form of bringing business before the meeting.

It is recommended that motions, if important or lengthy, be written.

Upon recognition by the president, the member will say: "Madam President, I move that ____." The president asks for someone to second the motion. This is followed by discussion. After adequate time for discussion, the president calls for a vote on the motion and announces the result.

Motion to Amend

If in the course of discussion of a motion someone wishes to amend it, upon recognition by the chair, she will say, "I move an amendment that..." and then state the motion in the new form.

An amendment may modify the original motion, delete parts of it, or add words or clauses to it.

An amendment must be on the same subject and may not contradict the original motion.

After the amendment is seconded, discussion follows.

When there is no further discussion, the chair calls for a vote on the amendment.

If the amendment is not approved, discussion continues on the original motion.

Further amendments may be made and dealt with as above.

Motion to Amend an Amendment

The amendment to the amendment is voted on first. If it is approved, the amendment to the amendment becomes the motion and is dealt with as the motion. If the amendment is not approved, discussion continues on the original amendment, and a vote is taken on it. If it is approved, it becomes the motion as amended. The original motion as amended is voted on.

Other Types of Motions

Other types of motions are described in The Manual, 2004, Appendix III.

Rules of debate and order are contained in The Manual, 2004, Appendix III.

For points not covered in The Manual, the parliamentary rules accepted in Canada (Bourinot) shall be followed.

Information on consensus mode is contained in Appendix 11 on page 53.

Reporting

Annual reports are an important part of the story of that year. One of the chief values of reports is an evaluation of what has been attempted and accomplished.

Each local UCW will be expected to submit a written report to the Presbyterial UCW for their annual report book and statistics.

Evaluation

Evaluation is essential to growth and development.

Evaluation helps give direction to future planning.

PRESBYTERIAL UNITED CHURCH WOMEN

Purpose

To unite women of the congregation for the total mission of the church and to support and strengthen the work of the United Church Women in the local congregations of the presbytery by providing opportunities for spiritual growth, Christian fellowship, and leadership development.

To function with flexibility to meet the needs of its constituency and, in cooperation with presbytery, to develop whatever new forms as may be required.

Constitution

The Manual, 2004

Sections 810–814 inclusive.

All organizations of the United Church Women of the congregations within the jurisdiction of the presbytery shall have the right to be linked together in an organization known as the Presbyterian United Church Women.

Where the Presbyterian United Church Women integrates with presbytery, the functions of the Presbyterian United Church Women should be assigned to the most appropriate grouping within the new pattern.

Responsibilities

The Presbyterian United Church Women should:

1. Endeavour to carry out the Purpose of the United Church Women as stated in the Constitution and further its interests and work.

2. Support, strengthen, and coordinate the United Church Women in the congregations within the jurisdiction of the presbytery.
3. Foster and establish relationships with women in those congregations that do not have a United Church Women's organization.
4. Develop relationships with the presbytery, the presbytery organizations, and comparable organizations of other denominations.
5. Encourage the participation of the United Church Women in areas of shared concern between the presbytery and the Presbyterial United Church Women, e.g. education in stewardship and cooperation with stewardship committees of presbytery in promoting the Mission and Service Fund of the church.
6. Carry out recommendations as determined by the Conference United Church Women and the National United Church Women.
7. Make recommendations to the Conference United Church Women or its equivalent and, through it, to the National United Church Women, and the Faith Formation and Education Unit, or its successor.
8. Arrange for the annual meeting of the Presbyterial United Church Women and all matters pertaining to it.

Organization

The Presbyterial United Church Women operates through an Executive.

Members of the Executive

- a) the past president
- b) the president or team of presidents
- c) other officers as may be required
- d) chairpersons of committees and/or portfolio convenors

Presidents or their representatives of the United Church Women of congregations within the jurisdiction of the presbyterial may be voting or corresponding members, as determined by the Executive.

Responsibilities of the Executive

1. To review and evaluate periodically the work of the Presbyterial United Church Women.
2. To do overall planning for the United Church Women within the jurisdiction of the presbyterial.

3. To ensure the transfer of the functions of the Presbyterian United Church Women to the most appropriate groupings when the Presbyterian United Church Women and the presbytery integrate.
4. To plan special events as necessary to carry on the work of the Presbyterian United Church Women.
5. To receive reports from the United Church Women of the congregations.
6. To recommend the nature and number of committees needed to carry on the responsibilities of the Presbyterian United Church Women.
7. To report regularly to the presbytery.
8. To arrange for nominations from the Presbyterian United Church Women to such committees of presbytery as may be determined, and particularly the stewardship committee.

The Annual Meeting

The purpose of the annual meeting is to conduct essential business and, primarily, to bring enrichment and enlightenment as well as vision and challenge for a meaningful future filled with lively and exciting possibilities.

The date and time of the annual meeting is determined by the Executive unless decided at the previous annual meeting. Consideration should be given to the expediency of holding the meeting prior to the annual meeting of the Conference United Church Women or its equivalent.

Voting Delegates

- a) up to four representatives, plus the presidents of the local United Church Women of the congregations within the Presbyterian United Church Women
- b) Executive members
- c) representatives (up to five) in congregations desiring a presbyterial relationship where no organized United Church Women exists (The Manual, 2004, section 814)

Corresponding Members

- a) the members of each local United Church Women
- b) others as may be determined

Business of the Annual Meeting

- a) approval of the minutes of the last annual meeting (not necessarily read)
- b) report and recommendations from the Executive

- c) reports, including an audited or reviewed financial report from the treasurer
- d) budget for the Presbyterial United Church Women or its equivalent
- e) election of presbyterial officers and delegates (and alternatives) to Conference UCW
- f) appointment of auditor or reviewer
- g) nomination of representatives to appropriate committees as required
- h) other business

Guidelines: Presbyterial Annual Report

The UCW Purpose should be stated in every annual report.

The following should also appear in the report:

- a) president's remarks and report; include special happenings as she represents Presbyterial UCW
- b) secretary's report: a summary of the Executive meeting minutes
- c) corresponding secretary's report
- d) treasurer's report: an audited or reviewed financial statement, including any "special fund" of the presbyterial
- e) proposed budget prepared by the finance committee

Guidelines

It is recommended that the Executive prepare guidelines for the responsibilities, the term of office, and the relationships to other groups, to facilitate communication and support of local UCWs.

Executive meetings should be planned and held as often as is necessary to carry on the work of the Presbyterial United Church Women.

The Executive receives reports from congregational representatives and presbyterial committees/divisions, and in turn reports to Conference/District United Church Women.

Committees

The nature and number of committees are determined by the responsibilities carried out by the presbyterial.

When a special committee, set up for a particular task, has completed its work, it should prepare and present a report and then disband.

Relationships

Relationship to the Presbytery

The Presbyterial United Church Women or alternative structure reports regularly to the presbytery. The presbyterial president or alternative is a member of presbytery and may be a member of the Presbytery Executive.

The presbytery looks to the Presbyterial United Church Women for nominations from their membership to serve on committees of the presbytery (the number to be nominated and the committees to be served are determined by presbytery).

Where the Presbyterial United Church Women and presbytery plan to integrate their work, it is essential to provide adequate continuity of responsibility for the work of the local United Church Women. Responsibility may be to a presbytery committee, or a special committee appointed.

Relationship to the Conference/District United Church Women

Each Presbyterial United Church Women is an integral part of the Conference United Church Women or its equivalent. In this relationship, two-way communication is essential for the effective functioning of both.

The president of each Presbyterial United Church Women or its equivalent within the jurisdiction of Conference (or her alternative) is a member of the Executive of the Conference United Church Women.

Reporting

Communication in reporting is the responsibility of the Executive.

Archives

In the interests of preserving the history of the United Church Women, all records of the Presbyterial United Church Women should be carefully saved. (See Appendix 15 on page 59.)

Guidelines: Finance

Expense Items

1. Provision should be made for the financial needs of the Executive or committee members. This should include anticipated meeting, travel, program, and resource expenses as budgeted.

Committee Reports

It is important to ensure that the provisions of the Privacy Act are upheld. (For more information contact the General Council Office or see www.united-church.ca/privacy/info.)

Nominations: The nominations may be presented in the form of a slate with one name for each office. (Further nominations could be given from the floor, or a ballot with more than one name for the office or position; in such case arrangements must be made for the vote.) (See Appendix 9 on page 48.)

The chair of the nominating committee is usually the past president.

A report is to be submitted to the annual meeting and must include a list of the full Executive, stating their positions, and with their permission, name, address, and church in case of local presidents. It is desirable that the presbyterial representatives for presbytery be listed and the committee on which they serve.

All active committees will submit reports, which will include information from local reports.

Special Reports

Special reports are submitted by representatives appointed by the presbyterial to institutions, camps, or presbytery or Conference committees that do not parallel any committee of the Conference UCW.

Press and Publicity Reports

These reports should include information on coverage by local papers, TV, etc., and advertising about events.

Archives

The convenor reports on materials gathered by locals as they report events, such as clippings, pictures, etc.

Each report submitted to the Presbyterial Annual Report should be condensed.

You are now a part of the _____ Presbyterial United Church Women.

Let us join in the hymn of committal, "Here I am, Lord" (Voices United 509)

Closing Prayer

(led by the new UCW president)

Let us pray.

And now, go with us, Lord, into the days ahead.

Strengthen us for peace. Give us wisdom, keep us humble,

and may we live and work together,

and so striving,

build a new and better world for tomorrow.

Prepared by Jean Nauta, Toronto Conference, 2005.

b) Service for the Dedication of a New Local

(service to be conducted by presbyterial president)

Presbyterial President

Let us pray. O God, Creator and Sustainer. We come together in gratitude this day! We are thankful for the community of your church, and the opportunity to serve you and your people. We ask your special blessing upon this group of women of _____ United Church, who are embarking on a faith journey of Christian witness, study, fellowship, and service together as a UCW local. Grant them courage, joy, and love as they travel together.

Members

We are proud today to be continuing the strong history of the UCW since its formation in 1962. Women's work in the United Church began even earlier, with the Woman's Missionary Society and the Woman's Association.

In our meetings we will include time for worship, as well as gaining knowledge of world needs, the work of the church beyond the local congregation, and the needs of our local community, so as to seek opportunities for Christian witness and action.

Presbyterial President

It is our hope that you, the members of this UCW local, will receive friendship, companionship, and support from one another, that all will be accepted equally for their different talents and abilities, and that everyone will receive encouragement to develop new abilities and to grow in Christian faith.

Let us stand and repeat together the UCW Purpose:

To unite women of the congregation for the total mission of the church and to provide a medium through which they may express their loyalty and devotion to Jesus Christ, in Christian witness, study, fellowship, and service.

New UCW President

Let us pray.

And now, go with us, Lord, into the days ahead.

Strengthen us for peace. Give us wisdom, keep us humble,

and may we live and work together,

and so striving,

build a new and better world for tomorrow.

Prepared by Joan Brailey, Toronto Conference, 2005.

Appendix 2: Services for Dedication and Installation

a) Service for Dedication and Installation (Presbyterial and Conference)

Leader

The church, the body of Christ, is composed of many different gifts. We come today bringing the gift of ourselves. Multiply each gift with praise to God who gives us all our days. Friends, you have been chosen to serve Christ, the church, and the world as members of _____ Presbyterial United Church Women of _____ Conference. You are invited to dedicate yourself for this work, looking to God for needed strength and guidance. We, your friends in the faith, should join our prayers with yours, asking God's blessing on your undertaking and pledging our cooperation and support.

Our gifts, no matter what their worth, we give as stewards here on earth. Called and empowered by God's command, we multiply the gifts at hand.

My sisters, we are to use our different gifts in accordance with the grace that God has given us. If it is to serve, we should serve; if it is to encourage others, we should do so. Love must be sincere. Hold on to what is good. Be eager to show respect for one another.

When women are involved with the church, their organization can change to meet new needs: changes take place as women take their places as equal and responsible partners in the life and mission of the church. Your tasks as officers and ours as members in the United Church Women of _____ Presbyterial of _____ Conference are challenging, and offer opportunity for fun, fellowship, and deep joy.

You, newly elected officers, have been chosen to enable the women of _____ Presbyterial United Church Women of _____ Conference to know the will of God. Will you seek God's will through prayer and study, and will your own lives reflect the gospel? If so, answer:

Yes with God's help.

Will you act in openness and love, cooperating with one another to accomplish Christ's ministry through the United Church Women? If you promise to do these things, answer:

Yes with God's help.

Would all members of _____ Presbyterial United Church Women of _____ Conference please stand.

You, who have chosen these leaders, have an ongoing responsibility to them too. They need your prayers, your love, your help, and your ideas.

The ministry of the United Church Women depends as much on you as on them. Do not demand that they be exactly like the leaders who went before them. Do tell them about new ideas and let their own particular gifts shine in service.

Will you pray for these leaders and love them as sisters in Christ? Will you support them with warmth and enthusiasm? If you promise to do these things, please answer:

Yes with God's help.

Let us pray...

Creator God, you have made us unique and your own. Guide now the growth of the United Church Women into new challenges. As Christ's life and death and resurrection have redeemed us, free us now from guilt, pain, and insecurity. Empower us to live with the gospel in our daily work. Comforting Spirit, remain with the leaders and women of _____ Presbyterial United Church Women of _____ Conference. Let the light of your presence in us illuminate all whom we meet. May God richly bless us in our fellowship, our study, our witness, and our service in our ministry. Amen.

Prepared by Betty Ward, Toronto Conference, 2005.

Prepared by Jean Nauta, Toronto Conference, 2005.

Appendix 3: Policy and Procedures regarding Closing of Presbyterials or Locals

Because the finances of Conference and Presbyterial UCWs are affected by the number of women in the local church, it is important that advance notice be given and consultation be held.

Local UCWs should advise the presbyterial that they are considering closing. The presbyterial should appoint two or three people to meet with the local. The reasons for closing and the distribution of finances should be discussed. As money has been given to UCW, it should not automatically be given to the local church, presbyterial, or presbytery.

If the final decision is to close, six months' notice should be given, and the local assessment for the following year should be paid to the presbyterial, since the assessment is based on the previous year's membership.

A service of celebration for the local UCW's work in the past should be held and attended by presbyterial representatives.

If a presbyterial feels that it should cease, notice should be given to Conference, and Conference should appoint two or three people to meet with the presbyterial. The reasons for ceasing and the distribution of presbyterial funds should be discussed, as well as arrangements for collecting allocations from the locals in the future.

Appendix 4: Service of Closure for UCW

(When possible, the whole congregation should be invited to take part in this service.)

Scripture

Psalm 112 (Voices United page 834)

Hymn

“We Are One” (VU 402)

Prayer

“God of the heavens and the earth” (VU page 930 “B”)

Leader

We are gathered to honour the UCW—a group of women who, through the years, have kept abreast of the mission work of our church and have worked tirelessly to support the spiritual and financial aspects of our church. They are unsung heroes, the guiding light within this congregation.

The UCW have made a difficult decision—a decision to disband after __ years of service. We value their wisdom and pray that they will always feel free to be involved in whatever way they choose.

(UCW women are invited to come forward. They could be invited to share their most meaningful experience in UCW through the years.)

This is your role now, the role of other women in the church.

Here you are now, recognizing the loss of ministries you no longer have, but valuing the opportunities for ministries in different ways.

Life-scarred, getting more and more in touch with the roots of your faith;

Walking, praying, singing along with fellow Christians;

Savouring the possibilities of rekindling spiritual flames in those you meet.

You journey onward with wisdom, with conviction, with the prayers of your congregation who recognize the faithful servants you have been.

May you walk in humility and truth as you face another transition in your faith journey.

(Present each member with a rose.)

Loving God,
We remember the generations of women who have gone before us.
We remember their wisdom and their love.
We are grateful for these gifts given by You.
We remember the generations of women surrounding us now, sharing their wisdom and their love.
We are grateful for these gifts passed on to us.
We offer our prayers to the generations of women who come after us.
They will build on the wisdom and love of past generations.
They will be the beacon of light for the future.
May you journey in peace. Amen.

(Return to seats.)

Hymn

“Eat This Bread” (VU 466)

Communion

Prayer following Communion

For the bread we have eaten, for the wine we have tasted,
for the life we have received,
we thank you God.
Grant that we continue to grow in love and understanding. Amen.

Closing Hymn

“Walk with Me” (VU 649)

Prepared by Jean Janick, Conference of Manitoba and Northwestern Ontario, 2005.

Appendix 5: In Memoriam for Our Friends of UCW

United Church Women have chosen a role. They have chosen to belong. They have banded together and they have bonded. They have worked shoulder to shoulder to keep the church's history and purpose alive. These women have shared their faith and their common purpose. We knew them well. We knew their concerns, their joys, and their fears. Their sorrows were divided by sharing them with fellow members; their joys were multiplied as they rejoiced in our midst. Time has cemented the bond we shared. Our unit, our UCW's closeness grew as the years passed by.

But now, we have lost our earthly connection with dear and cherished friends. There is emptiness, a vacant spot left in our midst where our dear friends and members used to serve. We miss them; we long for those days once more.

But we are earthly beings. We only understand a minute part of creation, perhaps a mere three score and ten of all eternity. So it is Lord that we commend our friends, your servants, into Your tender care. We rejoice that we are assured that they are with You and cherished dearly by You. We will remember them with love and affection.

We will light this candle to remind us of our friends and any members who have left an emptiness in our hearts.

A little tribute small and tender, just to say, still remembered, though absent, you are very near, still loved, still missed, and very dear.

Prepared by Jean Nauta, Toronto Conference, 2005.

The price covers the cost of the pin, certificate, and administration, plus support for the Life Membership Fund, which enhances programs for women.

Also, a “thank offering” for the life and work of the person being honoured will be given to the M&S Fund to provide support for the mission of the church in Canada and around the world. This credit is not applied to the pastoral charge, but is disbursed quarterly to the M&S Fund.

Who pays for a Life Membership?

Money for the purchase of a Life Membership may be raised through a special appeal or project, or drawn from the regular funds.

How do you order a Life Membership?

Orders are made through the General Council Office, United Church Women, attention: UCW – Life Membership Pins. Please include:

1. names of the recipient(s) who will receive the Life Membership(s)
2. a cheque or money order for $60 for each membership
3. the name and location of the church
4. where pins and certificates are to be sent

Download the application form: www.united.church.ca/ucw/lifemembership.

How long will it take to receive a Life Membership?

Please allow four to six weeks for delivery.

Can a deceased member's pin be given to a friend or relative?

Yes. The presentation must be made by the local UCW, and a Life Membership certificate must be requested from the General Council Office. Total cost of $40 includes a donation to the M&S Fund.

Can a broken or lost pin be replaced?

Yes. See Appendix 6 on page 44.

Appendix 8: Trusts and Endowments

There are differences in how trusts and endowments can be used. Both will have terms attached, and first and foremost, usage must comply with the terms.

In brief, endowments are a perpetual source of income. The capital cannot be spent. Only the interest earned can be used.

Trusts have been donated by an individual, usually through an estate. Both the capital and interest can be spent if desired. In some cases, decisions have been made by a governing body not to touch the capital, so that the base upon which interest is earned is not eroded. In other cases, it is felt that the gift was intended to be used, and therefore some or all of the capital is used as well as the interest.

With United Church Women's (UCW) trusts, the decision is up to the National UCW (NUCW). The NUCW can decide to use none, some, or all of the capital.

The funds that we call UCW Anniversary, UCW Travel, and UCW Life Membership are not trusts. They are separate funds or accounts of UCW money.

Criteria for Funds

Trust Funds

1. empowerment of women
2. concern about marginalized women at home and overseas
3. provision of study materials on topics of importance to women and their mission
4. provision of opportunities for connecting women across racial, provincial, and/or international boundaries (including visits and exchanges and the interpretation that follows)

Life Membership Program Fund

5. programming for women, e.g. videos, plays, books, doctrinal content of United Church; must be of interest to wider church of The United Church of Canada
6. special cultural exchanges: financial proposal would be presented to the annual meeting of the NUCW

Anniversary Fund

No criterion found, but has been used as seed money for next event.

Travel Pool

No criterion found except reference made to protecting $10,000 for future meetings outside of Toronto area.

Appendix 9: Elections

All officers and leaders of units shall be nominated and elected at each annual UCW meeting (if applicable).

a) Local

The person presiding over the election asks for the report of the committee on nominations. The chairperson of the committee on nominations gives the report. She should have three copies of the report prepared: one for the presiding officer, one for the secretary, and one that she reads.

The chairperson of the committee on nominations moves that the report be received. This is seconded, and the motion put forward.

If there have been no further nominations from the floor and the slate stands as presented by the committee on nominations, a motion from the floor to close nominations should be made, seconded, and put forward. The presiding officer asks the secretary to sign the slate as presented and should declare the officers and members of the Executive elected.

If further nominations have been made from the floor, there must be an election by ballot for those offices or positions to which more than one person has been nominated.

The presiding officer should appoint three scrutineers to distribute and count ballots. Scrutineers report the vote, and the presiding officer announces the name of the person elected. Information on the number of votes is confidential and must not be disclosed. The balance of the slate should be accepted by one ballot cast by the secretary as above. A motion to destroy counted ballots is required.

Note: The immediate past president should not be listed on a slate or a ballot. She is a member of the Executive because she is the past president.

After the election, the person presiding welcomes the president to the chair. The new president will then conduct the remaining business and close the meeting.

b) Presbyterial

Same as a) above, with the following additions:

Preferably the person presiding would be the Conference UCW president or any Conference UCW past president. She will then declare all offices vacant and call for a motion to appoint an election recording secretary. Following the election, the presiding officer will ask the election recording secretary to sign her copy of the Nomination Report and file it in the Minute Book. The chair of the presbytery or a past president of Conference UCW or Presbyterial UCW is invited to install the officers.

c) Conference

Same as a) and b) above, with the following addition:

Any UCW Conference past president not on the nomination slate or, if desired, the Conference president, may be asked to preside over the elections. The Conference president could be asked to install the officers.

Appendix 10: Creating a New Style for Local United Church Women

Resolution 24 passed at 37th General Council in 2000 amended the organization and functioning of women's groups within The United Church of Canada.

“All women's groups within the Pastoral Charge or congregation are free to determine their own size, structure, and manner of Leadership.” (The Manual, 2004, section 292)

Care should be taken to maintain communication with the presbyterial, Conference, and General Council Office.

Suggested Format

1. The role of the president could be shared cooperatively by more than one person:
 - a) Each has a specific responsibility, or
 - b) Each assumes full responsibility for a limited period of time.
 - c) Where there is more than one unit, consider enlisting unit leaders in assuming the responsibilities.
2. It will be necessary to have a secretary and treasurer and a supportive Executive (whose membership has been determined by the group). See the sections titled “Executive” and “Officers” on page 6.
3. Some alternative methods of fulfilling officers' functions:
 - a) Have the Executive carry responsibilities for implementing the needed functions.
 - b) Set up a committee whose membership revolves three or four times a year to care for the required responsibilities.
4. Remember the importance of continuity; it is advisable to have only part of the leadership membership change at any one time.

Evaluation

1. Evaluation is essential to growth and development.
2. Evaluation helps give direction to future planning.

For further information, see the section titled “The United Church Women of the Congregation or Pastoral Charge” starting on page 4.

Appendix 11: A Process for Consensus

Consensus stresses the cooperative development of a decision, with group members working together rather than competing. The goal of consensus is a decision that is agreed to by all group members. Total satisfaction is rare. The decision must be sufficiently acceptable that all will agree to support the group in choosing and implementing it.

Group Conditions that Support Consensus

- unity of purpose, a common starting place for all
- equal access to power
- autonomy of the group from external hierarchical structures
- time and patience to let it work
- willingness to attend to process
- willingness to attend to attitudes
- willingness to listen, learn, and practise skills

Group Members Must

- listen carefully and communicate clearly
- all participate actively
- all have equal power and equal airtime
- not avoid conflict, and must seek out differing opinions
- discuss underlying assumptions
- avoid changing position only to reach agreement
- present position as clearly and logically as possible
- all need to understand the position
- all need to be prepared to support it

Process

- What is the issue/concern we are dealing with?
- What is the relevant information we need?
- Do we need to make a decision, and do we need to do it now?
- If yes, what are the alternatives?

- What are the two or three most valuable alternatives?
- Which of these do people support? Why?
- Have we made a decision?
- What is it?
- Do all members understand?
- Have we reached a consensus?
- If not, do we need to vote?
- Do we now have our decision?
- Does this now need a motion? (very rarely needed)
- What is our next concern? Agenda item?

Role of the Facilitator

- Guide the agenda.
- Keep members on topic, clarify, and rephrase.
- Equalize the participation.
- Pace the discussion: slow down by asking for a moment of quiet, or speed up by reminding everyone of the time.
- Reformat: separate ideas, needs, and issues.
- Summarize.
- Aid the group's emotional climate by naming emotions as they arise and dealing with open conflict.
- Test for agreement.
- Solicit feedback at all times.
- Identify the decision and the way it is to be implemented.

Roles of the Members

- time keeper
- process watcher
- vibes watcher—emotional climate, hidden agendas
- devil's advocate, who speaks for those who are not present or not vocal

When Consensus Cannot Be Reached

Martha's Rules of Order

- A formal proposal is presented and a show of hands of those in agreement is called for; the show of hands is not binding.
- Ask:
 - Who likes the proposal?
 - Who can live with the proposal?
 - Who is uncomfortable with the proposal?
- If no one is uncomfortable, the proposal is adopted.
- If someone is uncomfortable, she is asked to state why. Discussion follows. Then a vote is taken on the following question:
 - Should we implement this decision over the concerns of the minority, when a majority feels it is workable?

A “yes” vote means the proposal is implemented. A “no” vote means there is more discussion until consensus is reached.

The Bailey Method

Members vote on whether or not to revert to majority rule. A three-quarters majority is necessary to revert to voting, and the same majority is needed to finalize a decision.

Developed by Betty Turcott, Bay of Quinte Conference, 2005.

Appendix 12: The Agatha Kaasa Bursary Fund

A Bursary for Women of the United Church Sponsored by the National UCW

The Agatha Kaasa Bursary Fund was established by the National UCW in 2003. The fund is fully supported by a bequest left by Agatha Kaasa, for women's work in the church.

Margaret Agatha (Coultes) Kaasa (1909–2000) was born in Huron County, Ontario, attended Wingham High School, and trained as a registered nurse at Grove Memorial Hospital, Fergus. Agatha worked as a private nurse for several years. She then trained as a lay minister at St. George's College, Toronto. She worked for nine years in the Maynooth, Alberta area as lay minister to four charges. She also undertook hospital visitation in Toronto as well as Edmonton. Agatha was an active member of the Woman's Missionary Society and later of the UCW.

Who can apply?

Any woman who is part of The United Church of Canada and is NOT in paid accountable ministry.

What kinds of requests does the fund support?

- leadership training and education
- continuing education
- projects or events that promote education, mission, outreach, spiritual nurture, and ecumenical and interfaith dialogue, locally or abroad

Note: Formal theological education is not funded, for example, M. Div. and D. Min. degrees, Centre for Christian Studies programs or similar programs.

How much money does the bursary fund offer?

The recipient can receive up to one third of the total expenses related to the request, with a maximum bursary of $1,500.

Will all requests be funded?

Requests will be funded at the discretion of the bursary committee, as funds permit.

How often can individuals apply for a bursary?

Applicants can apply once a year. Preference will be given to first-time applicants.

Application Procedures

The applicant must submit prior to the event:

- a detailed description of the program, project, or event
- total costs related to the request (e.g. travel, accommodation, registration, meals, etc.)
- other sources of revenue
- three letters of recommendation (at least two from within The United Church of Canada community)
- a written commitment to do some short-term follow-up work

We encourage women of the church to attend events related to the work and development of the United Church.

Appendix 13: Women's Ministries Network

Purpose

The purpose of the Women's Ministries Network is to develop an ongoing source for support, ideas, resources, and information exchange among the women's groups of The United Church of Canada.

History

Women's groups have been meeting for a variety of reasons throughout the United Church since its formation in 1925. In 1962 the UCW (United Church Women) was created as the successor to the Woman's Missionary Society (WMS), a world mission-oriented service and study group, and the Woman's Association (WA), which worked in local congregations.

At the 37th General Council in 2000, Women of The United Church of Canada was named as a way to acknowledge, support, strengthen, and celebrate all women's groups in the church—UCW groups and women's groups that do not belong to the formal UCW structure.

Given the diverse nature of the many women's groups, this new body seemed to be best understood as the creation of an unfolding network. Given that all women's groups are involved in some form of ministry to the groups' participants, to congregations, and to the wider community, the Task Group for the Women of The United Church of Canada recommended that the name be changed to the Women's Ministries Network. In 2003, the 38th General Council approved the name change.

Membership and Organization

All women's groups belong to the Women's Ministries Network, yet the Women's Ministries Network does not have a formal structure. All women's groups are free to develop their own organizational structures to suit their own needs and to determine why they want to meet, for example: for personal support, friendship, Bible study, spiritual nurture and growth, mission education, service, prayer, fundraising, healing, and education.

The UCW, which is active at all levels of the church, is a formal, structured organization within the network.

Appendix 14: Guidelines for Hosting National UCW

Note: All necessary expenses are the responsibility of the National UCW.

- Conference considering hosting the national annual meeting should, if possible, present a proposal to the previous annual meeting, where it would be considered in a sessional committee.
- Accommodation needed for about 40 people, including guests of members. Some will request a single room.
- Arrangements to be made in close consultation with the president and national secretary regarding needs for meeting and registration.

Responsible for:

- Arranging meeting location (making sure there are ample rooms for sessionals).
- Arranging meals (if facility has set meal times, informing president so agenda can be planned accordingly).
- Setting up meeting room as suggested by the president.
- Arranging requirements of presenters, e.g. technical equipment, flip charts, markers, microphone.
- Making hymn books and a piano available.
- Ensuring availability of copying equipment, telephone, etc., and having a telephone number available that can be used in an emergency.
- Arranging transportation from central carrier (airport, bus/train depot) to the meeting place and return at conclusion of meeting.
- Informing president and national secretary of arrangements made.
- Determining travel time between central carrier and meeting place so that agenda can be planned accordingly.
- Providing travel directions for those arriving by car.
- Probably being available at registration times to welcome members and assign rooms (this may vary according to facility).
- Arranging for a local cultural experience—usually half a day, preferably to include a United Church-sponsored project. This usually happens the second to last day of the meeting.
- Arranging any necessary bus transportation. This involves determining the price by comparison, if possible, and making arrangements in ample time for required deposit/payment to be arranged by the national secretary.

- Arranging for someone to conduct communion and preparing the communion elements.
- Arranging for drinking water to be available in the meeting room.
- Arranging any extras you might want to provide as the hostess. Cost of optional items would be the responsibility of the host Conference UCW, e.g. welcome favours, fresh fruit trays at break, etc.

Responsibilities of National Members

- Complete the registration form by date requested so that host Conference can be advised well in advance if there are special needs, e.g. diet, single room, and especially mobility challenges.
- Adhere to arrangements made. Should an emergency arise, inform the national secretary or local contact person.
- Members are responsible for their transportation to central carrier where scheduling differs from the general arrangement. Guests attending with members should notify host and national secretary a day in advance if their meal requirements change from those previously arranged.

Coordinated by Ruth Nott, Hamilton Conference, 2005.

Appendix 15: Making Room for Women at the Archives

“Making Room for Women at the Archives” is a project to identify and preserve the personal papers of women in The United Church of Canada and the records of organizations in which they have participated. It is a coordinated effort of the Central Archives of The United Church of Canada with a volunteer advisory committee.

A key period of women’s work, struggle, and leadership in the United Church, which coincided with the popularization of feminism in the wider culture, is becoming history. Organizations created over the past 50 years by women in both the United Church and the ecumenical church, such as the Movement for Christian Feminism, the Ecumenical Decade of Churches in Solidarity with Women, and the Centre for Christian Studies, are attracting scholarly interest. As leaders of the period are aging, it is a critical time to identify the streams of this history and to ensure that the experiences of its participants are collected for the archives—in personal papers, organizational records, and oral histories.

The project entails:

Knowing what we have by creating an inventory of women’s personal papers, beginning at the Central Archives and extending the inventory to the United Church’s network of regional archives.

Finding what we have by identifying women who have been key leaders in the United Church in the past 50 years, and encouraging the donation of their personal papers to the United Church or other archives.

Valuing our heritage by promoting women’s history and archival collections. Networking through women’s groups in the church (including United Church Women) and ecumenically, we will encourage women to recognize their contribution to church and social history and help ensure that this history is preserved in archives.

Learning from our history by encouraging workshops, seminars, and colloquia, and analyzing the past by asking: What has worked? What has not worked? What needs to change regarding women’s leadership in church and society for the future?

Sharing what we have and know by developing a database for the collection and connecting our website to other women’s archival collections.

Telling the story by collecting oral history, recognizing that stories of women's leadership in the church are not all recorded on paper. The timing of this initiative is critical in order to include the generations of women leaders presently among us.

Searching for the full story by attending to the history of all women in the church. The project will ensure that the stories of Aboriginal and ethnic minority women in the United Church are lifted up.

Celebrating the full spectrum of women in the church by encouraging all women to share their papers, records, and oral histories in all languages.
